If you want a subscription to Nature, the subscription price is:

$ 99/yr (student)
$199/yr (non-student)

What does the library pay for a one year subscription to Nature??

Same as above? It might be convenient to get it from the library, but it’s not much of a cost savings.

Less than above? Publishers wish to promote their material and, therefore, wish to support library distribution. Users should take advantage of the discounts libraries get.

More than above? Publishers expect libraries to pay more because more people will use the subscription.
