Special Collections Room: Quiet Study

Beginning in February, the Special Collections Room located on the Mezzanine will offer library visitors an additional seating area.

The room is currently unavailable for class visits and there is limited access to materials. The project includes installation of locked, glass doors to protect the collection.

Library instruction courses will still be scheduled in the space and signage near the door will announce when the room will be unavailable for seating.

Time-Saving Strategies: Try LibGuides

The Architecture Library has created LibGuides, or subject guides, that pull together all types of information about a particular subject or course of study.

LibGuides contain information about both our library's resources (books, databases, multimedia, etc) and links for online resources that are relevant to a particular subject.

The guides are updated throughout the year, so check back often to see what's new!

Find them at http://guides.osu.edu.

Feeling Stressed?

Mark your calendar for Monday, April 24!

Visit with therapy dogs in the Architecture Library from 11am - 2pm.
On Display:

You’re never too old for pop-up books!

The Architecture Library’s collection contains many books with unusual and interesting formats.

Some of these items will be on display throughout spring semester.

Stop by our display case and get inspired by these unique books!

Course Reserves Request System

OSU Libraries has updated and improved our online reserve request system.

The new electronic form is located under the “Course Reserves” link on the library website.

Instructors can complete the electronic reserve request form and submit it online.

When creating reserve lists, please keep the following in mind:

- Reserve lists are limited to 50 items
- Items will circulate for 2 hours
- Reserves will be kept behind the information desk and can be checked out upon request
- OhioLink, Interlibrary Loan, and Columbus Metropolitan Library books cannot be placed on reserve
- Personal copies can be placed on reserve and will circulate for 2 hours

To ensure that your reserves are ready when classes begin, please submit your requests by January 13.

What’s New...

- Need a basket to carry materials while in the library? Find them near the Information Desk.
- Print wirelessly in the Architecture Library! Mac and PC users will need to visit Uniprint’s wireless printing page, select Knowlton Hall (#11) and download the correct software package for their device. Once installed, patrons can send print jobs to our library printers from their personal computers.
